

First to spring sow and first to graze. Developed to fill the early feed gap prior to when other spring and summer crops are up to grazing stage. Potential first grazing as early as six weeks from sowing. The benefit of this combination of brassicas is high quality feed fast when you need it so finishing stock are putting on condition.