

An excellent quality, high production blend, where superior levels of animal performance is required. Ideal for finishing late prime lambs or yearling steers. Best suited to situations where management and inputs are at a high level to achieve high weight gain livestock performance.