

The Regen Row blend was designed for marginal rainfall zones that struggle to maintain perennial grasses like Tall Fescue and Perennial Ryegrass. All the components of the blends are capable of self seeding and regenerating the following season. It is critical to allow the plants to go to full maturity to utilise this regeneration trait.